SIR: I wish to thank you for the varied perspective your editorials brings to the news of the times. For instance, your editorial concerning the most recent investigation of the Kennedy assassination in New Orleans gave a most needed and fitting observation when it suggested that District Attorney Garrison stop creating more confusion and offer evidence to support his claims. Probably like most people, I am tired of all of the attention focused on this matter with relatively negligible results. Like others, I am frustrated, and I wish that someone would find the truth and support it with meaningful evidence. I, for one, sincerely appreciate your efforts towards this end.

Your editorial on the CIA "flap" was another example of your prudent, no-nonsense observations when it suggested that we, as a people, stop treating everything as a crisis and simply think before we speak. After thinking about the points raised in this editorial, I agree that it is necessary to oppose communist control of student organizations as part of a fight against communism on all levels. Further, I agree that the job could have been done better in the open. Democracy is such that it can be defended in the open on its merits — leave subterfuge to espionage and other sundry operations.

Because of the logic which you evince and the prudent sifting of the issues which is done in your editorials, your paper is one of the best.
